A HAPPY DAY all around yesterday for those that own things or speculate in them. Stocks went up with grain. The big steel company, selling more than 75,000 shares for the day, went above 107, in spite of steel conditions there gloomy had on the surface.

Somewhat evidently believes that a boom is coming. If that settlement of European troubles does come, even with innocent Americans pouring their savings into foreign bonds, you will see fireworks on the stock exchange and in business generally.

THE "DAWES plan of reparations" is making progress. Unless the wise men are mistaken, that is progress toward a boom in prosperity.

You find on important points "unanimous agreement." Something new.

IF THE PLAN goes through Europe will begin spending money here for American goods. They will be paid for with money borrowed from us, but that won't interfere with the "boom," at least for the present. Merchants would do well to look over stocks and see what they need.

MEANWHILE Germany shows that she has paid right and one-half billion gold marks to cash and merchandise, more than two thousand million gold dollars, as the price of being beaten.

If that money had all been spent to rebuild Europe and purchase raw materials, instead of being spent to keep soldiers on German soil, and increase armaments, half the trouble would be over.

ONE TRAIN two miles long pulled out of New Haven, Conn., yesterday, carrying 350,000 bushels of winter wheat. Four locomotives pulled the train, and the last two sections made up of hundreds of cars.

If Mr. Coolidge could have stood beside the track, fanning up how much the farmer would get, he wouldn't have found it to be the least bit tiresome. Agriculture, as Mr. Curtis truly says, is 1,000,000,000 better off than it was a few weeks ago.

ONE THING is going to hurt both Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Davis in this campaign, if they keep it up, and that is the ABSENCE OF FIGHTING. Americans think they are entitled to a good political fight at least once in four years.

If Davis and Coolidge adopt an "after you, Alphonse" method, they will turn many rednecked "bums" in the direction of La Follette.

THE PRICE of wheat started trading again yesterday. Paton, the wheat king of Chicago, predicts "wheat at $2 a bushel." Disinterested judges think it will go to $1.50, perhaps higher. Every little penny added to the price of wheat has a meaning of its own, for the Republican candidates.

THE GEORGIA LEGISLATURE is discussing evolution. One statesman calls the theory of evolution "rotten stuff." Another, Mr. McCreary, says if he was descended from a monkey he is ashamed of it.

Darwin, as it happens doesn't think he was descended from a monkey, either.

THE GEORGIA statesmen conclude that the young murderers, Loeb and Leopold, wouldn't have killed anybody if they hadn't been taught to believe in evolution. If that's so, it is very important. However, some have committed murder that couldn't read and never heard of evolution—Cain, who killed his brother, Abel, for instance. Where did he get that killing impulse, only once removed from the first man? Perhaps the serpent taught him.

Tells Governor Flynn Officials
Should Have Told the State
Troopers Their Mission

The arrest of two assistant attorneys-general and a police inspector of Rhode Island by Massachusetts State troopers near Worcester on July 19 is upheld by Governor Cox.

In a letter to Governor Flynn today Governor Cox declared he does not agree with the former's statement that the action of the troopers under the circumstances "is a surprising departure from the country which usually prompts the enforcement of officers of one Commonwealth to extend courtesy and assistance to the prosecuting officials of a neighboring State."

"The common practice, as I know it," he wrote, "when officers of one State desire information to be gained within the borders of another State or the arrest of persons located therein, is to make request of the officials of that other State for their cooperation and assistance."

Had such a request been made, he said, the reprehensible incident planned of would not have occurred.

TELLS OF PHONE CALL.
He stated that the officials with whom you spoke on the telephone acted entirely in accordance with their duties in declining to accede to your demand for the immediate release of the arrested men.

"The arrest," he said, "of the members of the Rhode Island party on July 19, 1924, by officers of the Massachusetts State police was made in consequence of a telephone call received that day, purporting to come from the Providence police department, requesting the apprehension of an alleged criminal from the Rhode Island party staying at the Hotel Marlborough in Providence."

"It was made in the belief that one of the members of the party was the man who was wanted. It also appeared that two of the men were in the custody of, or were subjected to some restraint by other members of the party who were Continued on Page 3, Column 2."

Chelsea Authorities Close Up
Slade's Pond After Several Are Stricken

Bathing in the chemically-poisoned waters of Slade's mill pond, off the Revere Beach Parkway in Chelsea brought blindness to a seventeen-year-old Chelsea girl, temporary loss of sight to two boys and inflamed and swollen eyes in several other boys and girls of Chelsea and Revere.

Chelsea health authorities have posted notices prohibiting further use of the poisoned pond as a bathing place.

Miss Agnes Wilbur, seventeen, of No. 49 Chestnut street, Chelsea, is at the Froed Hospital in Chelsea, where specialists are fighting to restore her sight.

OTHERS STRICKEN.
There also suffered complete loss of vision, and friends hurried her to the Froed Hospital in Chelsea, where physicians advised removal to the eye and ear infirmary.

James McKenney, eighteen, son of Paul McKenney of Chelsea, suffered temporary loss of his sight from infection by the poisoned water of the mill pond. They went in swimming there the same day Miss Wilbur's eyes were affected.

After treatment at their homes they regained their vision, but still suffer severe pain. Many other children were slightly infected.

DISEASE FROM LAKE.
A slight epidemic of throat and mouth disease has broken out in Concord among persons who have used Lake Walden in that town as a bathing place and health resort, becoming alarmed, will take measures to close the lake of the disease germs with which the water had become polluted.

Members With Permits Must Give Up Guns During
Time of Meetings

Kl Klux Klamm who appear at public and semi-public meetings of their order bearing weapons are to be disarmed by troopers of the Massachusetts State Patrol.

If they are without permits to carry arms, they will be arrested. If they have permits, the guns will be taken from them and returned the next day.

Enforcement of the drastic order will start immediately, by order of General Alfred P. Fote, Commissioner of Public Safety.

When Klammens gather in either Boston or Springfield Sunday night for the mass meeting called by the State leaders, they will be disarmed for weapons.

TROOPERS INSTRUCTED.
If there are Klan meetings before Sunday, and the troopers learn in advance, the new rule will be given a tryout at once.

Commissioner Fote conferred with troop commanders at the State House today and gave them explicit instructions. He said that Klammens, who gathered in the vicinity of Klan meetings also would be disarmed.

"I want it understood from one end of the State to the other that Klammens will not tolerate armed warfare between any factions whatsoever," the commissioner said. "To this end every man and every woman of this department will be used."

"There can be no duty which transcends in importance the safe-guarding of the lives and the limbs of our citizens."

That is how Governor Cox feels about the I PLAY SAFE CLUB and its aims to reduce motor vehicle casualties by awakening the public conscience and discouraging reckless driving and general carelessness on streets and highways.

As chief executive of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Governor Cox is so keenly interested, officially and as a private citizen, in the problem and in the campaign of education which the Boston American's I PLAY SAFE CLUB is spreading throughout New England, that he issued a State proclamation on safety today.

The Governor's proclamation reads:

Safety upon the public highways is one of the great problems of our time. It must be met.

The needless injuries and loss of life from reckless and careless operation of motor vehicles must be stopped.

The pedestrian likewise has a grave responsibility in this problem, and it is a GRAVE responsibility.

MacDonald Asks Cosgrave of Dublin and Craig of Ulster to Conference

LONDON, Aug. 1.—(U.N.R.)—Comptroller Secretary A. H. Thomas, announced in Commons this afternoon that the government would immediately introduce legislation to "refute" the Irish boundary provisions of the Anglo-Irish treaty.

The government is seeking to create a commission to settle the border dispute between Ulster and the Free state, but the party cannot resist this could not be done without special legislation.

The government wanted its supporters not to make any variation arrangements, due to the Irish crisis. Liberal members of Commons are expected to support the Labourites when the same matter is voted.

President William T. Cosgrave of the Dublin government, and Premier Sir James Craig, of Ulster province, have been invited to come here to confer with Premier MacDonald.

Boston Girls Among Ardent Tennis Devotees of Newport Colony

By BETTY ALDEN.

AMONG the more popular belles at Newport are the two of Winslow sisters, Natalie, Theodore and Emily. They are the daughters of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Cameron McLean Winslow, whose winter home in Boston is on Bay State road. For several seasons the family has spent the warm season at the Quaker City resort, where they are much to the fore in the activities of the fashionable colony there.

Featured here are the eldest sister, Natalie, who is a member of the Misses Natalie and Emily. The former is of most handsome type, while Miss Emily, like her sister, Theodore, has lovely Titian-colored hair. One of the prettiest parties of last winter and the half which Mr. and Mrs. Winslow gave at the Somerset, for their three daughters, the occasion marking Miss Emily's normal debut. The latter made a very good-looking picture in her old-fashioned gown of white, a costume most becoming to the wearer's rather plump style.

Speaking of the Winslows—Mrs. Winslow, who was formerly Miss Theodore Haymer of New York—was one of the patronesses for the concert held yesterday afternoon in Newport at the Historical Society. A host of personalities turned out for the affair, at which the artists were Grace Torpado, Salvatore and Stefano and Mrs. Lucy May.

Everyone in the Winslow family is greatly interested in tennis and Admiral Winslow has prepared a box for the annual in "Hilton tennis tournament" to be played at the Casino.

TOMORROW is a big day for the Winslows. At about the North Shore.

YOUNG HEARST FOLLOWS DAD AS PUBLISHER

Becomes Active Head of Paper Where Father First Won Distinction

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 1.—(U.N.R.)—While in San Francisco, William Randolph Hearst announced he had acquired his oldest son, George Hearst, assistant publisher of the Examiner. He also announced that James A. Callahan, heretofore business manager of the Examiner, had been appointed general manager, and that Edmund D. Chubbuck, the managing editor of the Examiner, had been given added responsibilities.

The appointment of George Hearst as assistant publisher of the Examiner marks the entry of the youngest generation of the Hearst family into the newspaper field in a responsible capacity and traces added interest because of the fact that the young man is now the sole head of the property founded by his grandfather and in which his father achieved his first distinction and success as a newspaper man.

Mr. Hearst has four remaining sons not yet out of school, William Randolph, Jr., sixteen years of age; John, fourteen; Randolph and Elbert, each twelve years of age.

Two sons of the Sunnyside Beach line, one at 215 and the other at 1845, will have Howard Hearst with the 2150 members and the kiddie for the last day of delight and pleasure.

As usual on all the trips, will be the free distribution of Hearst's delicious low cream, only on the occasion Howard J. Hearst and his assistants will be busy passing out a new delight, 2,500 Bushway "buds," which will have to be tasted in order to secure the secret of deliciousness.

HUGGED GIRL, DROVE AUTO; $5 FINE

Judge Tells Cambridge Man
Two Hands Are Needed to Drive Auto

William E. Nichols of Magazine street, Cambridge, in Brighton District Court today, before Judge C. J. Kelly, denied the charge that he operated his automobile on Beacon street, Brighton, with his right arm around a young woman's waist, while her hand rested on his shoulder.

Judge Connolly found Nichols guilty of operating an automobile improperly, and is imposing a fine of $5. Nichols said he had no license to have his arm around a girl's waist while driving a car. "Two hands are more as much in driving an automobile these days," declared the court. Nichols paid the fine.

KIDNAP STORY FALSE, SAYS ANNA SOBIN

Wanted to Get Notoriety and Obtain Justice in Slaying of Young Boy

Elizabeth N. J. Age 1—Anna Sobin, sixteen-year-old nurse of Howard Rotherberg, seven-year-old New York boy who was murdered at Winthrop N. Y., a year ago, has admitted to Prosecutor David and Police Chief Nichols, according to their statements today, that her story of being kidnapped last Saturday and left dragged in the Roselle Park woods for three days and nights, was false.

The girl is alleged to have told her questioners that she plotted the story to gain notoriety for the Rotherberg murder case, and to have it exposed that she might tell her story on the stand, because "she wanted justice done."

50 SUMMONSED FOR PARKING IN BROOKLINE

Chief Rutherford of the Brookline police, acting on the complaints of scores of citizens, has summoned in to court fifty outsiders, who left their machines on Brookline streets during the night of the Jack MacMahon Wilson fight at Braves Field.

According to the Brookline police, several hundred persons who attended the fight parked their machines on various streets on the Brookline side of Braves Field. Some of the machines were left standing in front of driveways, making it impossible for residents in Brookline to get into their own yard, while others left their lights on, and parked in front of hydrants.

As a result these violators have been sent summonses to appear in court.

NEWTON SOCIETY WOMAN IS HALED AS SPEEDER

Mrs. Elvira Burton, of No. 125 Commonwealth avenue, prominent society in Newton, has been summoned to appear in Brighton Court Saturday morning charged with automobile speeding.

BOAT TRANSFORMED

The Bluebird, formerly a navy steamer, has been skillfully fitted out in a remarkable way. Transformed into a quiet home, the engine has been removed and in its place there is a capacious storeroom. The cockpit has been transformed into a pleasant living room. Up forward, the bridge, which when resounded to the rattling of the machine, has been transformed into a quiet bedroom for two.

The old sailor's berth is at the end, where throngs lustre and settle in the game of life.

"I don't believe in such things as rent, nor the high cost of living," he says. "I feel as though I was apart from the rest of the world, and yet it is only across the water there," indicating the myriads of automobiles which throng the Mystic River parkway, a stone's throw from the Bluebird.

ONLY $5 A WEEK.

"I figure it doesn't cost me no more than $4 a week to run this old boat," he continued, "which is about five times less than it would cost me to live in the city."

Any time Oxnard feels like a change, it is a simple matter to have a tug tow him to a more desirable part of the river.

"I think I'll stay here until St. Warren leader for the Winter," he says.

Henry Oxnard and his wife have a big row limit to a more successful business life.

PROCLAMATION ON SAFETY ISSUED
Governor Cox Joins Enthusiastically in the American's Play to Curb Auto Deaths

Governor Cox today issued a proclamation which he signed, and which he urged the safety of every man, woman and child.
If you operate business or commercial motor vehicles or boats, you naturally want the roads made as safe and orderly as possible.
This is a problem that concerns everyone automobile owners and non-automobile owners alike.
There is no one to do it for you. It doesn't cost you anything. All you have to do is sign the petition which is being circulated in the Boston American, mail it with a two-cent stamp and a safety emblem will be mailed to you to display on your windshield.
There is all there is to the enrollment. You don't have to pay any money or attend any meetings. You simply send your moral support with that of an army of motorists and non-motorists, all public spirited, law-abiding inhabitants of Massachusetts and New England, to help to curb the danger of the motor vehicle and to give weight and impetus to the drive against motor vehicle accidents and lawlessness.
MARK IT PERSONAL.
You all know and appreciate the slogan "IN UNITY THERE IS

GOVERNOR COX GETS 'TAGGED'

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
STATE HOUSE, BOSTON
30th July, 1924.

Safety upon the public highways is one of the great problems of our time. It must be met. The needless injuries and loss of life from reckless and careless operation of motor vehicles must be stopped. The pedestrian likewise has a grave responsibility in this problem, and it is a grave responsibility. Carefulness in crossing streets in compliance with traffic regulations and signals is as essential as careful operation of motor vehicles.

There can be no duty which transcends in importance the safeguarding of the lives and limbs of our citizens.

STENOGRAPH. Put in into practice by enrolling in the 1 PLAY SAFE CLUB, send the membership. Send in a master of safety champions so big and formidable that you will plant terror in the hearts of speed maniacs, cup cranks and lawless drivers and pedestrians.

Cast your lot and influence with law and order columns. Keep your conscience clear and alert. Make a personal vow that YOU will not offend that YOU will not kill or maim anyone that YOU will not become involved in an auto accident if you can possibly help it.

Cultivate that frame of mind as an individual and build the habit in you. Motor vehicle accidents will be reduced. The offenders who seek such educational campaigns will stand out like sore thumbs, like law breakers in a community of discipline of RAPE, LUNACY AND SAFE WALKING.

The New England CROSS-BENT has expended $200,000 in the first twenty-four hours. The favor with which the public welcomed the 1 PLAY SAFE CLUB idea was wonderful. It showed that all that is needed is ORGANIZED EFFORT. A GET TOGETHER. No driver of an automobile, no matter how reckless or careless in disposition, wants to kill or injure a person, and no pedestrian, no matter how negligently disposed, wants to be injured or to injure anyone in an automobile.

It is all summed down in thoughtfulness and habit, the automobile driver away from CAVES THAT MAY BE CONSIDERED.

Applications for membership in the 1 PLAY SAFE CLUB should be sent in at once, at the point of the moment, at the close of the first day of the drive and continued to drive the 1 PLAY SAFE EDITOR today.

Address all communications, with two-cent stamps enclosed, to the Editor 1 PLAY SAFE CLUB, Boston American, Winthrop Square, Boston, Mass. Take up!

STANDARD OIL LEADS ATTACK, SAYS QUICKLY

Major Lawrence F. Quigley of Chelsea today accused the Standard Oil Company of being behind the attack to close his 17-cent gasoline station.

"Despite the attempt of the Standard Oil Company to hinder me in my plans to sell gasoline at a low price I will continue to do so," said the Mayor as he threw down the gauntlet. "I invite all motorists to come to Chelsea and buy my gasoline at 12 cents a gallon."

The Mayor said he would welcome a probe on the part of the Chelsea Board of Aldermen relative to the receipts of money from gasoline.

"All money received from the sale of gasoline at the Chelsea city station is deposited at the Chelsea Trust Company under what is termed 'Lawrence F. Quigley's Gasoline Account,'" he said. "If any motorist is left after all expenses are paid the money will be used in a fund to purchase dinners for the needy people of Chelsea."

His opponents are invited to probe to their hearts' content but they will find nothing wrong or illegal about my selling of gasoline. It was impossible for me to deposit this gasoline sales money in the city treasury as this is a private proposition of my own. When I opened my gasoline station the city solicitor ruled that any money received must be deposited in my name.

"The present situation is being caused by the Standard Oil Company. Its arms reach far, but it will not prevent me from continuing my battle to give the motorist a square deal by selling gasoline to him at a fair price."

FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

Must we have rising prices in order to have prosperous times? Or, are already prices better in the long run?

If prices which have had a sharp downward movement, and by being to rise downward, would it necessarily mean poor business?

There is something interesting about rising prices. There is more about it than meets the eye. When rising prices are accompanied by an advance in stocks and bonds, then there is something more than a mere coincidence.

But surely we have not seen anything like this in the past. When prices were high, the stock market was high, and when prices were low, the stock market was low.

During the last month or so, prices have advanced sharply, and the stock market has advanced sharply. This is a new situation.

The result is that prices are high, and the stock market is high. This is a new situation.
